Our Mission

Tribal Youth Court, TYC, aims to cultivate wellness-based responses to low status offenses. The TYC centers on educating tribal youth about tribal restorative justice practices and empowers them to engage in these practices in service of their communities.

Greetings,

Tribal Youth Court is delighted to collaborate with American Indian Recruitment (AIR) Program for another fun- summer. In addition to spearheading our Peer Decision Maker training program, AIR has been serving the San Diego American Indian community and Native youth through their after-school mentoring programs. The AIR program uses a “Teaching Through Culture,” model in which Native youth can learn about traditions, culture, history, and current issues affecting their tribal communities.

The program will run from June 24th -July 17th with a central focus on climate change and its effects on the world and on Tribes. Workshop topics will include how traditional lands that extend beyond the boundaries of reservations are affected by climate change. Participants will discuss how we to utilize a cultural approach in land preservation.

Some program activities include indoor rock climbing and kayaking in the beautiful waters at La Jolla Cove. In addition to offering outdoor fun, AIR promotes the success of American Indians in education. The summer program will include workshops on higher education and will offer exposure to local college campuses to all participants.

Please visit the AIR website at www.airprograms.org for eligibility requirements and information on how to apply.

Here's what to look for in June:

June 8th: National Best Friends Day Remind your friends just how much they mean to you on this day. Friends help celebrates the joys in your life and offer support during the hard times. Today is the day to show these people how much you appreciate them!

June 11th: National Children's Day This day is recognized on the second Sunday of June in the U.S. This observation aims to address the importance of children in society and the numerous challenges that some youth face. The day aims to improve children's welfare and reminds us to invest in their futures.

June 16th: Father's Day Father's Day is celebrated on the third Sunday of June each year. Celebrate fatherhood and take the time to show appreciation to all fathers and father figures. Set aside a little extra time this day to show love and appreciation for the men who raised us!

June 21st: National Indigenous Peoples Day This day can refer to different days in different countries that celebrate the cultures and histories of the native people of those lands. In the U.S., we celebrate this day in October, coinciding with Columbus Day. In Canada, this day is celebrated on the 21st, the summer solstice, to recognize the contributions and diversity of First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples.

June 23rd: "Let it Go" Day

Celebrated annually, this day serves as a reminder to stop wasting time and energy on negative feelings from negative things you can't control. Everyone deals with things that are difficult to overcome, but for the sake of your mental, and sometimes physical, health...let it go!

Month of June: National Oceans Month National Oceans Month aims to raise awareness about the importance of oceans and their vital role in the planet's ecosystem. By focusing on conservation efforts and sustainable practices, we can help foster a deeper appreciation of the oceans and inspire action to preserve and protect them for future generations.
